

Obsessional love Night of the long kiss bound us home of red love. Unknown melody call us to beat towards each other. Sea of dream pitch us like waves. My dream dies like dancing last slow in disco. I wash up my vision when I woke up my dream. My pouring tears shouting your name. I am flying in time you living in the moment. In my feels I miss you though you just might be illusion of my vision. No one else should brush love over you. I don't want to know that someone else loves you though that it was. Haaaa aaaaaa This love is unexplainable though how much I think about it. Obsessional love love love Love is dying and all I can't see anything else but peald heart. I don't afraid to love you but I scare to breath in something else towards other face. My psyche is dying farer you are from me. Soon only shadow from my heart wander in the lights of evenings. Step by step mind dying. Soon I wander in a hell of losing. I flail somewhere in a dark although I don't know formerly be somebody but soon I think that I am someone else. Haaaa aaaaaa This love is unexplaineable though how much I think about it. Obsessional love, love , love You fall to someone else`s lap and I fall to cold darkness. In my feeling I miss you though you might be my vision`s illusion love. No one else should brush love over you. I don't want to know that someone else love although that how it was, because the I shouldn't be exist. Only nightmares follow me. Seed of my live come to me before psyche is no more. I am sorry I love you.
